OFF FOR FLORIDA.—A number of families from the Fork started on a journey for Florida during the week before Christmas to try their fortunes in the "Land of Flowers." Messrs. Da-vid A. Phillips, Henry Phillips, Calvin Rutland, John Fogle and others, constituted the party. The Florida fever seems to be on the increase and we hear of others who contemplate going. We are sorry to hear this as we can't afford to lose any of the good citizens of Orangeburg County by emigration.

Chief of Police Wolfe was made the recipient on Christmas Day of a handsome silver butter dish as a present from the policemen on the force. This was a graceful tribute to our worthy Chief of Police, and one that will be appreciated by that efficient officer as is an expression of esteem and good will of those who serve under him. The presentation was made on behalf of the force by W. L. Glaze, Esq., City Attorney, in a neat little speech. Cap-tain Wolfe, who was taken completely by surprise, responded in a feeling manner on accepting the gift.

THE STANDARD DRAMATIC COMPA-NY.—This most excellent theatrical com-bination have been treating our citizens to some of its best performances during the present week. It opened here on Monday night with the "Black Dia-mond," and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the "Two Orphans" and "New York by Gaslight" respectively were admirably rendered to large audiences. It is almost needless for us to say one word in praise of this company, they being well-known to our people as ladies and gentlemen of decided histrionic talent. Miss Alice Irving renders her parts with that grace and elegance that only first-class artists can command. Miss Nellie Claire and Miss Nina Ritchie are also bright ornaments of their profession, and always render their parts charmingly. Mr. S. B. McElreth is inimitable a comedian, and never fails to "bring down" the house sometime during the evening. Other members of the company does some fine acting, and taken altogether the whole troupe is an admirable combination of talent that cannot fail to please. The company makes its last appearance for this season to-night, when we hope it will be greeted by an overflowing house. It has been here so often and given our people so much genuine pleasure that Orangeburg feels a proprietary interest in the Standard Dramatic Company, and we but voice the sentiment of the drama loving portion of our community when we express the wish that it will come again next Christmas. A SAD AND TRAGIC DEATH.-Seldom or ever has our community received so sudden and terrible a shock as on last Friday afternoon in the sad and tragic death of Mr. A. W. Bell, a citizen of our town, and conductor on material train No. ? of the South Carolina Railway Company. The fatal accident oc-curred about 1 o'clock on Friday, at Felder's, about three miles from our town. Conductor Bell was standing on the platform of his car giving directions to his engineer when slipped and he fell on the track between the cars. Three of the cars passed over his body and nearly severed it before the train could be stopped. He was almost instantly killed. His body was immediately brought to his home in Orangeburg. As soon as the news of the melancholy affair reached Charleston, a special train was sent by the Railroad Company to convey the body to the city for interment. Mr. H. W. Sigwald, of Charleston, the father-inlaw of the deceased, and a Committee of Conductors, came on this train. The funeral services were performed at the residence of Mr. Sigwald in the city by Rev. L. K. Probst, of the Lutheran church, after which the remains were followed to their last resting place at Magnolia Cemetery by a long train of sorrowing friends and relatives. Among the number were fifty or more Railroad employees. Mr. Bell was a hative of Colleton, had resided for many years in Charleston, and had recently | early corpulence, large head, short neck, made himself a comfortable home in grad formal form pathy of the entire community in so ing upon an editor for satisfaction about

It is none of our funeral, but we hope that Livingston will be able to hold his own against Agnew, who is one of the biggest rascals in the State.

Christmas has passed, and we hope hat we will have no serious accidents or mishaps to report. All went off well in our town, and, as far as we have heard, in our County. The firing of crackers during the day, and the sending off of fireworks at night kept things lively. The young people had lots of fun; and the old folks were made happy in seeing them enjoy themselves.

Some miscreant, not having the fear of God or man before his eyes, cut the harness on Dr. A. S. Salley's horse last week while it was standing hitched to a buggy in front of a residence whither the Doctor had gone to visit a sick lady. Any person whose heart is deprayed enough to commit such a depredation on so good a man as Dr. Salley would steal coppers off of his dead mother's eyes.

The Christmas Tree at the Presby terian Church, on Christmas Eve night, under the management of Superintendent Hamilton, was a pleasant and successful affair. The exercises were very interesting. After the singing of several beautiful pieces and an admirable and appropriate recitation by Master Woodward Hutson, the presents were given out, and all the little folks went home happy.

The Bamberg Chronicle, of last week, published this interesting item: "We learn that brother Holmes, of the Barnwell People, is to be married, Friday night, to a lady living near Ashleigh, S. GRAND LODGE, A. F. M.—The Grand Lodge of Ancient Free Masons of South Carolina assembled in annual communication at the Masonic Temple in the city of Charleston at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, December, 11th. All the grand officers were present, also the reresentatives from 126 subordinate lodges. The Grand Master, in his address, gave a careful review of the condition of the order in this State, and the harmonious relations of the Grand Lodge with other grand bodies throughout the world. He recommended the adoption of biennial sessions, thereby reducing expenses, as a means of liquidating the debt of $23,000 which hangs over the Grand Lodge. Several mendments to the constitution were up for consideration. The amend nent providing for biennial sessions was defeated. The amendment limiting the nileage and per diem of delegates to the amount of dues returned by the Lodges they represent was adopted, as was also the amendment permitting District Deputy Grand Masters to make official visits to subordinate Lodges at called meetings. A resolution was adopted requesting a contribution of $3 from each subordinate Lodge in the State for the use of the South Carolina room at Mount Vernon, the remittance o be made to the Grand Treasurer by the first of March, 1884. The following grand officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: W. M. Humphreys, Anderson, Grand Master; J. Adger Smyth, Charleston, Deputy Grand Mas-ter; A. H. These whips were wrapped in paper, and, as far up as it covered, the varnish seemed fresh, and, where not covered, the whips looked old and worn. The plating on the end was tarnished as though they had been long used. Now, if Mr. Chapin nailed the whips up in the ceiling in 865, the revelation of this fact to John Fant, a rather dull colored man, who happened to be on an adjoining lot, is a mystery. Several tenants have occuied the house since 1865, and last year there were 150 school children in it prying into every nook and corner from

Give them a showing and all will be well.

Mr. Needham Askew, of Farmville township, went to Marlboro, and, in company with another man, got drunk. After drinking as long as he wanted to, Mr. Askew started for home, his companion with him. Soon after leaving Marlboro, Mr. Askew was overpowered by the whisky he had taken and fell in the foot of the buggy. His comrade being too much under the influence of liquor to assist him, he remained in the position in which he fell until his home was reached, and when his wife went out to the buggy to get him to the house, she discovered that he was dead. When he slipped down in the foot of the buggy his head fell over the dash, and being too drunk to alter his position, he died from strangulation before

SOLID SHOT AGAINST Blood Poison

ATLANTA, GA., April 17, 1883. ATLANTA, G.A., April 17, 1833.

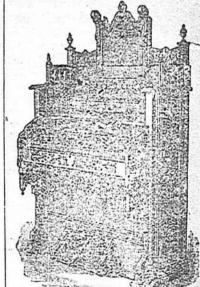

In 1878 I was the victim of a terrible Blood Poison, and after being treated by three physicians, was confined to my bed, not able to raise my hand to my head, spitting up clots of blood, and reduced it weight from 185 to 130 pounds. I then began it a use of Swift's Specific, and in less than three month I was endirely well, weighed 193, and have never had a symptom of the disease since. If it had not been for Swift's Specific I befreve I would have been the my grave. All work in this line done without delay

We have for twelve months been prescribing Swift's Specific in the treatment of the diseases for which it is recommended, and theve not been disappointed in a single instance. We think, for all diseases it is recommended to care, it stands without a peer, and that the mode all profession will sooner of later be forced to acknowledged; in the treatment of Blood Diseases, a rine mat non.
